4. BRIEF DESCRIPTION OF THE COMPANY'S WORKING DURING THE YEAR AND REVIEW OF ITS PROGRAMME INITIATIVES:

AHEAD Initiatives is in its 15th year and it has successfully completed 11 projects impacting on food and nutritional security of the poorest of the poor families, education of children and livelihoods. We worked across Bengal and a few areas in Odisha and Jharkhand as well. The success of our Food Security and Education projects led to several phases being sanctioned by CISU, our Danish primary donor, something which is not common among the NGOs they support worldwide. Till last year we were implementing six projects of which four were with a grant from CISU of Denmark which was enabled and managed by iiINTEREst, the Danish NGO; one with a CSR grant from Embee Software P L and another small project funded by SSMF. The Danish funded projects were Food Security IV (2020-24) and After School (2021 - 2024), both of which ended end December and two other projects which will continue till end 2024 viz. Education Project III and Handicrafts Project III. The Embee CSR Project started in August 2024 which was a continuation of their support since 2018. AHEAD oversees SSMF's project, a village based initiative to support a local school. It is a trust funded by Late Shri Rathnadeep De and his family.

The iiINTEREst-funded four projects' objectives were (1) 'Addressing Food and Livelihood Security through participation of the food insecure poor in the sustainable institutions and processes of Local Self Government', (2) 'After School - A Local Self Government Approach to Institutionalise Skill building at neighbourhood schools aimed at alleviating poverty in rural West Bengal', (3) 'Strengthening Civil Society in support of revitalisation of social and environmental sustainable local crafts and economies in rural West Bengal, and (4) 'A Local Self Governance role for a contextually more appropriate education for rural youth to alleviate rural poverty'.

The fourth and final phase of Food Security project was in the districts of Purulia and Dakshin Dinajpur in West Bengal, Tonto Block of West Singhbhum district in Jharkhand and in Mayurbanj District of Odisha, Kusmi Block and the Simlipal Bio-Reserve area of Jashipur Block. We are happy and proud to mention that the evaluation process was carried out by Dr. Neil Webster, who is globally well known for his expertise and experience in rural development, including in South Asia. He visited West Bengal several times and spent a lot of time in Burdwan, besides Kolkata. He studied the panchayat system and has written and published several documents on it. Dr. Webster extensively toured our area of interventions at Purulia. He has submitted a very favourable evaluation report, commending on AHEAD's catalytic role while also providing valuable guidelines to support transformative development processes. The report has enriched us immensely and in the future, it will shape our thinking to focus more on transformative action rather than only transactional strategic delivery.

We have also completed the 'After School' programme for rural youth, which was one of the most innovative programmes of AHEAD Initiatives for the rural youths with low educational attainment levels. This aimed to train them and help create supplementary livelihoods. 'After School' is a late afternoon, short multi-session modular skilling programme which not only attracted and impacted the targetted youth but elders as well, especially women. We have also completed the evaluation process of this project. It was conducted by Shri Suman Talukdar, a nationally acclaimed development professional with twenty years of experience in handling multiple development projects for both CSR and foreign funding agencies. He also toured the areas of interventions in Purulia and South Dinajpur. The report has analyzed the demonstrated approaches and the consolidated outcome which will guide our future interventions especially in the areas of sustainability. Overall he has praised the approach and recommended several measures that are necessary to make such projects more successful and impact-oriented.

AHEAD Initiatives

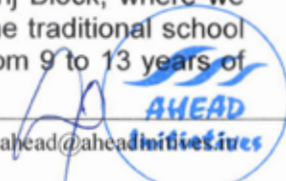

Addressing Hunger Empowerment and Development

The third project, in its second phase, has been on rejuvenating a traditional handicraft – Tussar silk - in Tantipara Gram Panchayat in Rajnagar Block of Birbhum district in West Bengal. Started on a small scale in mid 2018 with a few beneficiaries of the After School project, Tantipara Prakritik Tussar Kendra (TTPK) is now was a collective of nine artisans institutionalised as a limited partnership firm. It is in the process of forming a Producer Company that will enable a better management as well as access to Government support. The collective, guided by a designer from iINTERest, has successfully developed Tussar garments with natural dyes, unlike all others in the weaving community. The products – both quality and design - have been highly acclaimed by Crafts Council of India and SASHA and the products were sold– in several national handloom fairs in New Delhi which they facilitated; a premium fair in Mumbai called 'Baro', and at Nabanna fair in Santiniketan. Through these exhibitions TPTK attracted enquiries and orders from top-end designers, including the globally acclaimed Anita Dongre's fashion company. TPTK trains over 200 local women in embroidery, stitching and sewing, This endeavour is meant to inspire other weavers in Tantipara and help in the development of the local industry. As a result this would offer local employment and a renewed, rewarding opportunity to youth migrating to other cities to stay in the community. It is helping local women, especially the young, get a rare opportunity to be financially capable. Supplementary livelihoods are being created for allied services as well. The ADM of Birbhum was highly appreciative of our efforts and products and he has initiated a movement to create a special brand called Birbhum silk which would include not only Tussar silk but Resham (mulberry) as well which are cultivated in Birbhum. The ADM's efforts will be supported by TPTK who will train and develop many weavers as well as SHG groups. A cultivation of natural dye resources (flowers etc) will be made possible under the Government of West Bengal's 'Maatir Shrishti' programme.

The fourth continuing project has been on rural schools. AHEAD is supplementing the present urban-centric syllabus by creating contextually appropriate educational content and making learning more engaging and fun using creative tools and arts. The Project also took on the challenge of augmenting pedagogical capacities of the teachers of 150 schools in 15 Gram Panchayats (GPs) of 8 Blocks in 3 Districts in West Bengal, in the domain of Activity Based Learning (ABL), based on existing curriculum and syllabus. Several manuals were published for the classes to enable the teachers to develop creative and engaging ways to teach children. The Education Project also aimed to provide supplementary curriculum in the areas of nutrition, health, livelihood security, rural life skills and participation in democratic processes of self-governance to the rural school children. Education authorities at Block as well as District levels have been supporting the initiatives and agreed to collaborate in implementing the initiative.

This year the CSR supported programme has been started in Hingalgunj Block, where we have initiated an ambitious alternative learning process, going beyond the traditional school approach. We have initiated 5 Open Learning Centres where children from 9 to 13 years of children are attending and learning Foundational Literacy and Fluency (FLN) as well as subject matter aligned to their school textbooks. The Central Government as well as ASER, a national research on schools supported by Abhijit V Banerjee, has identified FLN as a critical concern and need that schools have failed to address successfully. The centres are managed by one Learning Facilitator in each of the OLCs and they are coordinated by one supervisor. For empowering the Learning Facilitators we have organised several on-site and online workshops conducted by external experts, in areas like language, maths and performing arts, as well as environment. As a whole within the short span the OLCs have successfully demonstrated that communities can take a lead role in determining a learning space and children can learn better if ambience permits.

2023 saw AHEAD qualify to apply for a Programme funding from CISU, Denmark and from early 2024 AHEAD was approved for Programme funding. This was due not only to AHEAD's successful and credible management of 11 projects over the years but also the annual spend in all projects. CISU had appointed an external consultant from Denmark who visited AHEAD and two of its project areas to make an assessment of company policies and practices, both project related, and on HR and Finance. The assessment approved of AHEAD as a capable, deserving organisation for Programme funding. The Programme enables, in CISU's words, planning and pursuing – BHAG – which stands for Big Hairy Ambitious Goals. Besides being focused purely on transformative change in village development and leadership, this is going to be an identity-reimagining exercise of AHEAD Initiatives. The overarching goal of the entire intervention lies in empowering the rural communities so that it can collectively and collaboratively take on a vital role in the process of development. The intervention is also aiming to bring the rural CSOs centrestage so that they can emerge as a catalytic change-maker in the process. The intervention is addressing four interdisciplinary domains: (a) Food Sovereignty, which upholds the rights of the communities to determine their own food system and transition from chemical-input based farming to natural farming process, (b) Intergenerational Lifelong Learning, which upholds the necessity to learn continuously so that multiple generations can take exchange of learning as a culture which goes beyond the institutional structure of schooling. (c) The Eco-Livelihoods domains upholds the necessity to re-imagine existing livelihoods of rural India, to transform it in a sustainably rewarding way, and at the same time ecologically responsible. (d) The fourth domain cuts across all the other domains focussing on building village communities, empowering CSOs and creating village based CBOs who will lead and sustain the developmental role of the village communities. Geographically the programme will be implemented in the 116 villages scattered in 3 districts, 4 Blocks, 18 GPs of 2 states of India. The Education Project III and Handicrafts III will run parallelly with the Programme till their conclusion in December 2024.

The Programme is distinct from Projects as the focus is on long term transformational change, allowing a four year, three-phased approach. It allows flexibility in implementation as well as in use of funds. In first quarter of 2024 AHEAD focussed on the Design and Planning for the Programme which necessitated several Capacity Development Workshops for both AHEAD and its CSO team. Training sessions included conceptual development of the AHEAD and CSO team in the areas of Food Sovereignty, Education and Livelihoods. AHEAD also initiated the process of Organisation Development partnering with PRIA-New Delhi both for AHEAD and CSO teams. This also included some CSO organisations who are currently not partnering with AHEAD but had in the past. This is part of AHEAD's new initiative to build a CSO network comprising current and previous partners as well as CSOs who are only company shareholders. The OD workshop has and is continuously impacting on team work and leadership development.

AHEAD Initiatives

Addressing Hunger Empowerment and Development

We also had a special training on creating livelihoods. A GLIDE (Group Livelihood Development) workshop was conducted for both AHEAD and CSO teams by Shri Pradeep Ghosh, one of the most sought-after livelihood practitioners and experts in India. The GLIDE approach is based on capacitation of rural enterprise so that they can take part in rural import-substitution.

AHEAD also participated in National Conference on Local Democratic Governance in India hosted by Azim Premjee University and a workshop on Conventions on Intangible Cultural Heritage hosted by UNESCO. As a result of the UNESCO conference AHEAD and TPTK are likely to be part of a major effort across West Bengal to build Rural Culture & Crafts Hub.

Around end of 2023, iilINTERest team visited AHEAD for the annual evaluation which included visits to Education and Handicraft project areas. A workshop was held with CSOs on Sustainability which was conducted by iilINTERest.

With the kickstart of AHEAD's Programme, the coming years will hopefully witness some significant, innovative strides in the pursuit of a transformation in the wellbeing and welfare of the villages.
